Sam Wormley regularly contributes photo work to Co'Motion Dance Theater, ISU Dance and Music Departments, and the Central Iowa Symphony". Spanning 30 years, he has gone from film and B/W darkroom work to full frame digital SLR photography.

"For me, reading is an excellent way to learn. I learned what I know about photography by reading--the technical camera and darkroom techniques, the science of perception, the effect of framing, other artwork. And, of course, one learns by doing. A photographic experiment is worth a thousand expert opinions".
